NRG Industrial is aware of the important role the environment plays in its operations and its responsibilities towards the environment. We are committed to the integration of environmental consideration into all areas of our business activities. We apply this to both internal practices and the services we provide to clients.

Our approach to managing the environmental effects of our activities where practical, is to:

- Communicate our environmental policy and provide suitable training and information to assist our people in fulfilment of this policy.
- Comply with the requirements of all-prevailing statutes and regulations relating to environmental protection and management.
- Ensure that potential environmental impacts of our activities are fully assessed and mitigation strategies implemented.
- Be efficient and conservative in the use of fuel, electricity, water and paper.
- Only purchase materials and consumables sufficient to complete our services, reducing waste handling and disposal.
- Recycle waste materials.
- Monitor our environmental performance.
- Promote continuous improvement of our environmental performance and review our environmental policy every 12 months.
